TAFTVILLE

Alterations on the grand stand on the ball grounds is now completed. The roof is of board, covered with tar paper. Underneath there is a dressing room and shower baths. This improvement meets with the approval and is welcomed by the ball players.

The old swimming hole above the dam was much in use yesterday owing to the warm weather.

Summer is here at last, yesterday being the first day.

Several of the villagers are planning to hold an outing on the fourth at the beach.

Miss Ruth Pollard of St. Luke's hospital, New Bedford, is the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Pollard, of Front street.

Mrs. Luther Packer and Mrs. Albert Aberg were at Groton Long Point early in the week at Mrs. Packer's summer home.

Miss Gertrude Young, who is spending several weeks in Boston, was at her home on Slater avenue early in the week.

A new sidewalk is being laid in front of the Sacred Heart church property on Providence street.

Red and pink ramblers are blooming freely about the village.

Friends in town have received cards announcing the marriage of Frank Barton, Ricketson, and Mrs. Ethel Louise Grover at Manchester, N. H., June 13th.

Mr. and Mrs. Ricketson will be at home in Taftville after Oct. 1st.

Thomas Grimeshaw, who broke his leg in a football game on the Providence street grounds, is much improved and expects to be discharged from the Backus hospital soon.

Thomas P. Sears of Providence street was a visitor one day this week at Groton Long Point.

Many local people will attend the Yale-Harvard boat race Friday, and several local parties have chartered Norwich launches for the occasion.

Several local members of Columbian commandery, K. T., took part in the parade Tuesday evening in Norwich.

Will Entertain at Sanatorium

The Decker club will entertain the patients and nurses at the state tuberculosis sanatorium this (Wednesday) evening. A very enjoyable programme has been arranged by Prof. Hugo Kinder, musical director of the club.

Johnny Coulon—The Unlifiable

Coulon, the former Bantam-weight Champion of the World, who weighs only 119 lbs. defies any one to lift him. By a certain trick not even the heaviest man can so much as budge him.

Why Does She Look So Old
This question has been asked about many a woman under 30, who has married and taken upon herself the cares of a home and young children.

When a woman is suffering from female weakness, bearing down pains, head and back ache, and nervous irritation, it is well nigh impossible to attend to her duties and retain the charm and freshness of youth. Must she then struggle on toward the inevitable nervous breakdown or premature old age?

Lidia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved many women from such a fate. Thousands of grateful letters from such women testify to the merits of this wonderful root and herb medicine for female ills.

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

TWO DIVORCE AND AUTO SUITS SETTLED

Trial of the divorce suit of Mrs. Sarah Nemirovsky of New York against Isaac Nemirovsky of Bozrah was begun in the superior court here Tuesday morning before Judge Gardner Greene. It was down as a contested case but was heard as uncontested.

Myer Blumenthal was interpreter. Mr. Nemirovsky testified that they were married in Odessa, Russia, on April 8, 1904, and that he resorted here May 1915, and is now running a boarding house in Bozrah.

Other witnesses were Benjamin J. London, David Cohen, and Joseph Weiner. The decree was given for desertion and the wife was allowed to take her maiden name of Sarah Natouchena. A claim for alimony was not pressed.

The suit of Agnes S. Turner, a Norwich nurse for $3,500 damages from Joseph Lono, a Norwich jitney driver, was next taken up for trial. Shield & Shields were attorneys for the plaintiff and John H. Barnes and Edward T. Burdick for the defendant. The suit was settled after one witness had been heard and a deposition read.

The claim for damages was brought as the result of an automobile accident on the night of May 13, 1919, when Frederick J. Bell, a chief at the submarine base, hired the jitney driver to take him and the nurse to the home of Mrs. E. H. Harro on the Stratford road where they both boarded. On the way the Lono auto collided with a wagon and the plaintiff said she was hurt so badly she was unable to work until the following November and was under the care of a doctor.

A deposition was read by Mr. Bell and then Agnes S. Turner told her version of the accident after which a settlement was reached in the case. A divorce was granted to Ester H. Barnes Carpenter of New London from Frank L. Carpenter of Noank after the complaint in the case had been amended to make the grounds for divorce desertion on Sep. 2, 1917. The couple was married on June 17, 1902. The wife was given the custody of their five minor children, Lewis, 12, Frank, 10, Emma, 8, Carlissa, 4, and Ester, 2.

The appeal from probate in the case of Helene Paterson executrix, against James Peterson of New London, called next on the assignment list but was dismissed for non-appearance of the appellant.

Court adjourned till this (Wednesday) morning when the trial will begin in the suit of E. Frank Morgan of New London against the Savings Bank of New London to settle the hands of the bank.

This suit has already been tried once and a verdict reached from which no appeal was taken. The case before Judge W. T. Case before whom the case was tried, died before he had made his findings in the case. The verdict was for the plaintiff to the rule of the court for the case to be tried again.

ART STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION
HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING
The annual meeting of the Art Students' association was held in the lecture rooms of the Slater Memorial on Monday evening, with Mrs. Frank Hempstead presiding.

Following the minutes of the last meeting, the annual report of the secretary was read by Miss Alice W. Cogswell, and the report of the treasurer, Miss Alice Cardwell, showed a good balance for the close of the year.

Mrs. Channing M. Huntington, chairman of the program committee, in outlining the work done during the season, showed that the topics had been unusually interesting and that several lectures had been given.

Miss Thelma McCurdy read letters from some of the French orphan children of artists who were killed in the war, for whose support the Art association makes annual contributions. One is studying art in Paris and expects to be self-supporting in a year or two.

Miss Helen Perkins reported that the press committee had sent 112 newspapers to out of town members during the year.

Mrs. William Geer read of the activities of the house committee, and Miss Harriet Trumbull reported for the admission committee, a gain of 25 in the membership, and presented 15 names for associate members, who were elected.

The following officers were elected for one year: President, Mrs. Frank Hempstead; vice president, Mrs. Robert W. Perkins; secretary, Mrs. W. Tyler Browne; treasurer, Miss Alice Cardwell; auditor, Frank Hempstead.

The chairman of the standing committee elected were: Program, Ozias Dodge; admission, Mrs. Charlotte F. Eastman; house, Mrs. William Geer; dress, Miss Helen Perkins; concert, Mrs. Ozias Dodge; assistant secretary, Miss Amanda Fisher.

In place of a regular program, a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the house committee with Mrs. Carl W. Brown as hostess.

PARK CHURCH SCHOOL PICNIC
HELD AT OCEAN BEACH
The members of the Park Church Sunday school held their annual picnic at Ocean Beach on Tuesday. The party left Norwich at 9:15 o'clock by special train and spent a very enjoyable day at the beach. The Sunday school at noon furnished a lunch to those present.

The menu for the lunch was sandwiches, fruit, cake, coffee, and ice cream. During the afternoon games were played. The committee in charge was Miss Nellie Loring, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Allen Latham, Mrs. E. J. Graham, Mrs. H. D. Johnson, Mrs. L. O. Smith, and Mrs. William H. Collins, and others. John Evans was in charge of the games. The return trip was made late in the afternoon, the party arriving in Norwich at 5:15 o'clock.

Backwith-Eliss Wedding.
The wedding of Miss Miriam Eliss of Norwich and George Beckwith of Franklin, is to take place Saturday, June 25, at the Franklin church. Miss Eliss is a graduate of the N. F. A. of Norwich and of the Boston Conservatory of Music and is an accomplished musician.

day a golden though, beautifully clothed and briefly expressed. This has been in deed, an inspiration to us. Yours has been no perfunctory expression but it has been the speech of life and character. We have felt the inspiration of your words each day because we knew they had behind them a rich and full experience and a heart overflowing with good will and because you not only preach and pray but live the Christian religion.

And so, sir, we could think of no more fitting token of our esteem than this pure gold. It has been through the redness of fire and has come forth clean and fit to be placed in the hand of a man whom we have come to love because of his very innate goodness which shines forth in every word and act—a man in whom there has been no darkening of the inner vision.

DAIRY HERD OWNERS
ASKING TUBERCULIN TESTS
Public opinion in Connecticut has changed greatly in the past two years with regard to the eradication of bovine tuberculosis. Commissioner on Domestic Animals Whittlesley said this week at Hartford, explaining the work which his department will begin on July 1 with the $140,000 appropriation allowed in the general budget for the 1921-22 fiscal period. "In proportion to the population," he added, "Connecticut is one of the leading states of the country in this work."

According to Commissioner Whittlesley, 100 applications from owner of dairy herds now await action by the department. The tuberculosis tests are made upon the request of the owners of the herds but this does not exempt them from state and federal laws relating to disease. There are now fifty-three herds in the "accredited herd test" list, these cattle having passed two annual tests. One hundred other herds have passed one test. In all 2500 head of cattle have been officially tested for bovine tuberculosis.

"We are just finishing up the work of the first two years," Commissioner Whittlesley said, commencing on the 1912 law which authorizes this line of endeavor. An appropriation of $10,000 was made for this work in 1919.

The applications from the farmers show that the tuberculosis test is a benefit from the livestock point of view. The practicability of this work has been proved. From the result of the work already done it is probable that 26 per cent. of the dairy cattle in the state are infected with tuberculosis.

Commissioner Whittlesley pointed out that those working for the eradication of tuberculosis "have every reason for encouragement." He explained that the recent New York conference on tuberculosis showed that since 1900 tuberculosis has decreased 35 per cent.

"All children are exposed to infection from bovine tuberculosis," said Commissioner Whittlesley, "and this can be prevented. Experts recognize the fact that infection comes through the mouth and not from the air. From the livestock view we are trying to do what our work so that the control of infection from the spread of bovine tuberculosis will be accomplished."

Tuberculosis experts tell us that the work among human beings will be facilitated once the spread of bovine tuberculosis is eradicated. Connecticut ranks high in this work. There are eight sanatoria in the state two of them for children alone, and an appropriation of $1,500,000 for the next two years.

The tuberculosis tests are carried on by the commissioner on domestic animals in co-operation with the federal government, but no test is undertaken unless the written application of the owner of the herd is approved by the commissioner. Two veterinary inspectors and a federal inspector are employed in the tuberculosis test work. According to Commissioner Whittlesley there are about 10,000 herds in the state with an aggregate of approximately 70,000 head of cattle.

Commissioner Whittlesley is greatly interested in the eradication of bovine tuberculosis, and with Dr. Edward B. Hooker and others interested in the work, appealed for a substantial appropriation from the general assembly appropriation committee for the work. It is hoped that the state will make a course of training at the musician school at Newport, R. I. Ex-navy men can re-enlist for a period of two, three and four years no matter how long they have been out of the service. Further information can be obtained by writing to, or applying at, the navy recruiting station, post office, New London, Conn.

William Ringland Graduates With Honors.
William Ringland, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Ringland of Hickory street, has completed his course at Goddard seminary, Barre, Vt., being graduated with honors.

He was prominent in athletics at the school, having played on the baseball and football teams, and also took a leading part in the school dramatics. He took a leading role in the senior class play, which was given three times during commencement week.

While attending the school he was popular with both classmates and instructors and carries with him their best wishes for a successful career.

Trinity Episcopal School
ENJOYED DAY AT BEACH
The annual picnic of Trinity Episcopal church was held Tuesday at Ocean Beach. The school left Norwich on the 9:45 trolley, arriving at the beach about 11 o'clock, where bathing and games were enjoyed throughout the day. At noon basket lunch was enjoyed and in the early evening the return trip was made, the picnicers arriving in Norwich about 8 o'clock. Percival W. Chapman and Walter E. Gilbert were in charge of the arrangements for the delightful day.

Enlists in the Navy
Walter Edwin Shaffer of Mystic applied for enlistment at the navy recruiting station in New London, was accepted and sent to New Haven for further training. He served four years in the naval reserve force.

A limited number of men between the age of 15 and 25 who have had some experience as a musician will be enlisted as musician first and second class, or, they may take a course of training at the musician school at Newport, R. I. Ex-navy men can re-enlist for a period of two, three and four years no matter how long they have been out of the service. Further information can be obtained by writing to, or applying at, the navy recruiting station, post office, New London, Conn.

Weave Room Overseer Resigns.
Albert Williams, who has been overseer of the weave-room at the Trading Cove mills of Joseph Hall & Sons, has resigned his position to take up duties of another line. Mr. Williams, who has been a popular employee of the mill, was pleasantly surprised on Saturday morning when his shopmates presented to him a scarf-pin, set of cuff links and a purse of money. He was well liked by those under him and it is with regret that they noted his leaving.

Admitted to County Bar.
Charles F. Willard of Groton, formerly an attorney in Massachusetts, has been admitted to the New London county bar. The oath was administered to him by Clerk George E. Parsons last Friday after a favorable report on his application had been made by the committee and Judge Gardner Greene had approved the report.
